My Only Harry

Dear

I am writing you on the 4th our mail had remained impeded by ice, and sales of corn for export had ceased, it is held at 1/2 cent with a light stock on hand,

Corn Meal continued to be inquired for in Mass, a sale had been made at $10 for delivery upon the opening of the navigation, but there had been a decline in New York and that price may not be supported when supplies commence and it would be advisable to keep down the price of Corn, - I could last week do so not inquired for, - there is no feed of Corn - Corn Meal Mass, have become very scarce and all has been bought that could be at $3, and if you are purchasing corn it would be better to secure Mass, and pack in them, and send down what you can the first opportunity I have application for them

Very truly
Your Friend &c
